

BACKYARD SCIENCE AT THE PUB

CHEMISTRY IN THE SEA

In celebration of National Science Week 2011, Dr Mark Norman, Head of Sciences Museum Victoria explores the clever chemistry used by our coastal and deep-sea animals, from glowing ink and toxic slime to warning, communication and the building blocks of these alien bodies.

Tuesday 2 August 6:00-8:00pm

Royal Hotel 43 Fairy Street, Warrnambool

MUSEUMVICTORIA

For enquiries and to register your interest, please email vgin@museum.vic.gov.au

Image: Striped Pyjama Squid.
Source: Museum Victoria. Photographer: Mark Norman

